Before You Arrive

Packing Essentials

Clothing

➤ School and Work

Campus dress and the Israeli professional atmosphere in general is fairly casual. Most students attend classes and campus events in jeans and T-shirts (or shorts in the summer).

For site visits, conferences, case competitions, and networking events, students will be asked to appear in formal business attire with appropriate footwear.

We recommend bringing a computer bag/backpack for campus, and a purse/ briefcase for meetings or professional visits.

➤ Home and the Outdoors

Summer in Israel is hot and humid. Pack lots of light clothing, sunglasses, sandals and a hat.

Winter is cold and rainy. Pack warm clothes, an umbrella and a waterproof jacket and shoes. Most houses in Israel are not insulated.

Bring nicer items for parties, clubs etc. and modest clothing for religious site visits.

Throughout Israel are thousands of trails for hiking, camping, swimming, horseback riding, ATVing, and (even) skiing! For any trip proper walking shoes/hiking boots, a hat, water bottle and sunscreen are a must. You may also want to bring a sleeping bag and camera.

Other

➤ Cosmetics and Toiletries

Cosmetics, toiletries, and other personal supplies are readily found in Israel, although they might be more expensive, and specific brands are not always available. Specifically, you may want to bring a sufficient supply of sunscreen, as your favorite brand may not be available or may be significantly more expensive.

➤ Electricity Outlets

Israel's electrical current is 220v, 50 cycles. Make sure to bring required adaptors and transformers for laptops and other electrical appliances.

➤ Computer Requirements

All students are required to have a laptop. Use of Excel is crucial in many classes. If you have an Apple computer, you will have to run Windows on it concurrently. The Excel version for Apple computers will not be sufficient.

Health Suggestions

As when visiting any foreign country, there are often some adjustments your body will need to make to the new environment.

Water: Remain aware of the high risk of dehydration, especially during the summer months. Newcomers to Israel may suffer from an initial sensitivity to tap water, so bottled water is recommended for those with sensitive stomachs.

Sun: The sun in Israel is extremely strong – much stronger than in many other countries. Even for short periods of time, sun protection (hat, sunglasses, sunscreen etc.) is very important. If you plan on being at the beach all day, be sure to reapply sunscreen regularly.

Medications: Consult with your family doctor regarding any additional medical recommendations, such as vaccinations. It is recommended you bring a sufficient supply of medication for your time here, and a printed generic prescription for any medication, should you need it refilled. Please Note: while many drugs can be over the counter in your home country, it will not necessarily be the case in Israel.

Phone Plans

There are many phone companies available in Israel including: Golan Telecom, HOT Mobile, Cellcom, Pelephone, Partner, etc. Most companies require a passport number and address in Israel to sign up and plans range from 30 – 99 shekels, depending on call and internet usage. Plans do not require a time commitment however there may be fees for setup and the SIM card.

For very short term contracts, most cellphone stores found all around Tel Aviv also sell pre-paid SIMs. Make sure your foreign phone is unlocked for international SIMs before leaving your home country.

What to Prepare?

Health Insurance

You must get health insurance for your stay in Israel, either through an Israeli company or one of your homeland companies. Yedidim Agency offers a $2.15 per day plan, more information can be provided upon request. Please note the campus clinic will not accept foreign health insurance.

Visas for Foreign Students

➤ Passports

In order to enter Israel as a student, you must have a passport that is valid for at least a year from your date of entry into the country. If you do not have a valid passport, apply for one immediately. If you hold an Israeli passport, you are required to present it upon arrival.

➤ Student visas

Students who do not hold an Israeli passport may want to consult with the Israeli embassy in their home country regarding visa and entry regulations.

- A. All students should apply for a student visa (A-2) prior to their departure. The A-2 Student Visa is a multiple-entry visa valid for one year, allowing you to enter Israel an unlimited number of times for a period of one year. Student visas are renewable after one year both in Israel and abroad. You must apply for an A-2 visa in person at your nearest Israeli consulate.

Please note: It is illegal to study in Israel on a tourist visa.

- B. A student visa does not allow you to work in Israel.
- C. If for some reason you could not apply for your student visa before leaving your home country, you must take care of it immediately upon arrival in Israel at the Ministry of Interior.
Ministry of Interior details:
53 Salame St. 4th Floor, Tel Aviv
Office hours: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, 8:00AM-9:00AM
- D. Please note – some students will not be able to enter Israel without receiving a student visa ahead of time because they are not automatically granted tourist visas upon arrival in Israel.

Israeli Born & Returning Israeli Citizens:

If you are a returning Israeli citizen or child of a parent with an Israeli citizenship, please contact the nearest Israeli Consulate in order to clarify your legal status in advance of entering the country. Israeli citizens or children of Israeli citizens should check their status regarding military service and might want to apply for exemption through their nearest Israeli Consulate before arrival in Israel.

Housing in Tel Aviv

Unfortunately, the university does not currently offer dormitories for students in the Exchange program. Students attending the program will need to find an apartment in Tel Aviv, Ramat Aviv or commute.

Tel Aviv has an extremely fast-moving housing market and many different areas to choose from. If you are looking for a quiet, neighborhood location close to the university, consider looking in Ramat Aviv. For a more central location to bars and beaches, take a look at the center of Tel Aviv. Students are advised to set time aside specifically for apartment hunting prior to the start of the program (2-3 weeks is recommended).

There are plenty of real estate brokers but expect to pay one month's rent as a finder's fee if you find an apartment through them, plus 17% VAT.

Depending on a variety of factors, you should be prepared to pay anywhere from 2,500 NIS (living with roommates) to 4,500 NIS (living alone) per month for a partially furnished apartment.

For the first couple of days, you may also want to consider using a hostel. For more information see the following link - <http://www.hostelsweb.com/cities/telaviv.html>, and the table below.

Secret Tel Aviv's Apartment Guide has more tips and Facebook pages in both Hebrew and English.

Feel free to ask anybody and everybody. This is actually a very effective way of finding housing, jobs and information. Personal connections go far in Israel, especially since apartments come and go very quickly in the city. Our Facebook group is a great place to ask alumni for tips or even find apartments to take over.

When looking for an apartment, we highly recommend clarifying the following:

1. Apartment Details

- Location – What is the area like? Is there a nearby bus route to the university?
- Size (in square meters)?
- What floor is it on? If on the ground floor, are there bars on the windows?
- What appliances are included? What furniture is included?
*Many apartments do not include major appliances like an oven, stove or fridge.
- Is there air conditioning? Heating?
- Is there a roommate? What is he or she like?

2. Bills

- Arnona (municipality tax) - every two months
- "Va'ad Bayit" (maintenance fees) - every month
- Gas
- Water: Electric water heater ("dood chashmal") or solar-powered ("dood shemesh")?
- Electricity on average
* Consider electricity spent on heating, air conditioning, electric water heater

3. Rent

- A rental agreement may be all inclusive (water, gas, electricity, maintenance fees, cable, internet, phone, tax), include just rent or include some utilities.
- Payment may be requested through 12 cheques, 6 cheques or 1 lump sum.
* Never pay cash unless you receive a receipt.

4. Signing the Lease

- Can it be written in English?
- Does there need to be a guarantor?
- Is a security deposit required?
- Do they require a lawyer to review the lease? If so, who covers that cost?

For more information regarding the legal aspects of leases, the Student Union offers free legal consulting. To receive this service, please make an appointment to visit their office in the Mitchell Building, room 112. Additional information is available on their website, click here.

If there has been no appeal during that period, the grade is final. The appeal process will be communicated to you during orientation week. The last grade given will be the determining grade (even if the grade received after the appeal is lower). During the appeal period, students may not take their original papers/exams out of the office. They may look at their papers and make a copy if allowed by their program administration.

Special Needs

Tel Aviv University believes that all of its students and staff should be entitled to equal access to university facilities, resources and activities, regardless of physical, sensory or mental limitations and disabilities. Living in Tel Aviv

Welcome to Israel! The national languages in Israel are Hebrew and Arabic, but don't worry, there are people here from all over the world. More often than not people will speak English and will be happy to help you if you have any questions.

Getting to Tel Aviv from the Airport

1. Train: From the arrival hall follow the signs to the train station (located in the airport on Level S of the Landside Building). Train tickets can be purchased through automated ticket dispensers. For information on schedules and fares: Israel Railways Information Service: 077-2324000 or *5770 or on their website.
2. Taxi: Just outside the arrivals hall is the taxi queue. There is a flat rate for Tel Aviv of approximately 150 NIS (this price will be higher on Friday night or Saturday).

Take into account that if you arrive on the Sabbath - from sundown on Friday to sunset on Saturday – there is almost no public transportation. In general, trains run up to an hour before sundown on Friday, and begin again on Saturday night approximately an hour after sunset. If you plan on arriving during Shabbat, your only option is to take a taxi or have a friend/family member pick you up.

Security in Israel & Identification

Security is a part of everyday life in Israel and an ongoing concern. Although it has been relatively calm lately, precautionary measures are still maintained in some public areas including malls, bus stations, and the university. For example, Tel Aviv University security will ask you to open your bags when you enter the campus. Please understand that this is an important precautionary measure.

You are advised to carry some form of photo identification on you at all times. You may also want to carry a photocopy of the first page of your passport.

Public Transportation

Recommended Apps

Moovit is a public transit app and mapping service which features trip planning, live arrival and departure times, up-to-date line schedules, local station maps, service alerts, and advisories that may be relevant to one's current trip. The app is compatible with iPhone and Android platforms and has a web version.

Gett - previously known as GetTaxi, is an Israeli-based startup that connects customers with taxi drivers. Customers can order a cab either through the company's website, or by using the company's GPS-based smartphone app. The app is compatible with iPhone and Android platforms.

Busses and Trains

Dan and Egged run a number of buses to the university from Tel Aviv. Buses 7, 13, 24, 25, 126, and 289 are the most convenient bus lines for students coming from central Tel Aviv. Be sure to check apps or online schedules to see when the last bus runs every day and on weekends.

In order to use transportation, each student must buy a "Rav Kav" transportation card, which can be reloaded with money at select bus stations, train stations and on some busses. You can also load a student profile for discounts or purchase a semester pass (for unlimited rides) at the Tel Aviv University Train Station, Central Bus Station or the Arlozorov (Merkaz) railway station.

The Rav Kav looks like this:

During the first week of each semester, the Dan bus company hosts an on-campus stand, where you will have the chance to purchase a Rav Kav, load a student profile or purchase a semester pass.

To purchase you must have your student card and proof of studies.

Further details will be provided at the orientation.

The Tel Aviv University train station is located approximately 15 minutes by foot from the Collier School of Management. During the academic school year there is a shuttle (7, 289, 49 and 45) that runs between the station and the university. You can catch it just outside the main gates and just show your student card to the driver.

Night Buses, Sherut Taxis – Weekends & Holidays

Night buses (Kavei Layla) are available on Thursday and Saturday night. For more information please dial "Call Kav" hotline at *8787, <http://www.kav-layla.co.il/>.

Sherut Taxis are shared minibuses that run 24/7 along pre-set routes. You must flag them down and they cost between 6.90 – 14 NIS depending on time and date. Inform the driver when you would like to get off, and remind him close to the destination. The 4x runs between Allenby, Ben Yehuda and the university.

Taxis

Important Information:

- If you ask, your driver has to put the meter (Moneh), as opposed to a fixed rate
- From the campus to Tel Aviv's center should cost NIS 40-60 during the week and NIS 80-100 at night on weekends.
- It is highly recommended to use a taxi application. One can be found below.

Bicycling and Electric Scooters

Bicycling is a very popular mode of transportation among local residents, with designated bike lanes along major roads. Tel-O-Fun: The Tel Aviv-Yafo Municipality runs bike rental stations throughout the city, similar to programs in major cities in North America and in Europe.

Electric scooters such as BIRD or LIME are available around the city and can be rented through their applications.

Please note: It is illegal to ride a bike or scooter without a helmet, valid driver's license, while under the influence or while using a telephone. It is also illegal to ride on the sidewalk (unless otherwise marked as a bike lane) or across a pedestrian crossing. Fines range from 250 NIS to 1,500 NIS. Please ride safely.

Living in Tel Aviv

Working Hours in Israel

The Israeli workweek is from Sunday to Thursday, with a few offices also open on Friday mornings. The weekend for most office workers is Friday and Saturday. At Tel Aviv University, courses are held and administrative offices are open from Sunday through Thursday, although some academic activities do occur on Friday mornings. Stores in Israel are generally open from Sunday through Friday afternoon. Some malls and stores also open for Saturday evening shopping.

Groceries

Just a five-minute walk outside the university's main entrance on Einstein St. (Gate 7), is the Super Bonus grocery store that caters to students and has a good assortment of products. Larger grocery chains in Israel are: Shufersal, Mega, and Tiv Ta'am. Shufersal and Mega are closed on Shabbat and have only kosher products. Tiv Ta'am sells non-kosher products and is open on Shabbat.

Also open on Shabbat are the AM:PM stores, which sell fresh produce and most staple groceries, though usually no meat or cheese counter. As the name suggests, AM:PMs are always open (only in Tel Aviv).

Health Food Stores: The two main health food stores are Teva Kastel (many locations throughout the city) and Eden Teva Market. Also available at these stores are lots of rarer products from around the world. If you're looking for marmite, sushi rice, curry, or root beer, this is your store!

Markets: The Carmel Market is located at the intersection of King George, Allenby, and Sheinkin. It is a great place to get fresh produce, baked goods, prepared food and snacks. International food and spices can be found along the market's main road and on side streets. Beyond food, the market also sells flowers, hardware, clothes, etc.

Foreign Products: Mizrach Maarav, found in the Carmel Market imports international food that cannot be found in other locations.

Laundry

There are many laundromats throughout the city. Usually self-serve, laundry should cost around 15 NIS per load. Dryers will cost less-- around 10 NIS. Be sure to check what coins the machines require. Many require three 5 shekel coins exactly. Dryers usually use 5 shekel and 1 shekel coins. The washing machines usually take around half an hour. Be careful to watch your laundry and shrinking is not unusual.

A laundry service is available at many dry cleaners. Cost is determined based on kilograms of laundry. Some locations offer a pick-up and/or drop-off service.

Post office

There is a post office located just outside the university, on Levanon St. across from Gate 8. They offer many services and products including: stamps, phone cards, fax services, money changing (better rates than at the bank). You can even buy a credit card and pay most of your bills! We recommend checking conversion rates before changing any money. A slight difference to posted rates can be expected.

Driving in Israel

Students holding a valid foreign driver's license should be able to rent and drive cars in Israel. Many rental companies are located on Hayarkon st. near Frishman St. You can also sign up for a car sharing service like "Car to Go" or AutoTel (which also has designated parking spots around the city).

Beaches

Tel Aviv has great public beaches with changing rooms, restrooms and cafes right on the sand. Beach chairs and parasols are available for a small fee. For more information, including directions, please visit the following link: <https://tel-aviv.gov.il/en/Visit/beaches/Pages/default.aspx>

Exploring Tel Aviv and Israel

About Tel Aviv

Tel Aviv was founded during the Ottoman Empire in 1909. The name is derived from the Hebrew word "Tel", an archaeological term for an area where you can see the strata of old cities built upon one another, and the word "Aviv" which means spring. The name is meant to represent "a rebirth."

Just south of Tel Aviv is the city of Jaffa – a city whose history dates farther back than Jerusalem and which hosts the oldest operating port in the world. In 1909, a group of Jewish Jaffa residents chose to leave the city of Jaffa in order to establish a new residential neighborhood just outside the city's border. This area turned out to be the first neighborhood of Tel Aviv.

With the influx of Jewish immigrants from Europe between the years 1924-1939, Tel Aviv became Israel's major center of commerce, culture and arts. In 1950, Tel Aviv and Jaffa merged into one municipality – today known as Tel Aviv – Jaffa.

The Tel Aviv of today has maintained its distinction as the cultural and economic hub of the country. The city boasts a plethora of restaurants, beaches, museums, movie theaters, outdoor cafes, boutique shops, bars and clubs. This combination has attracted the nation's youth and young professional crowd in droves. It has also earned the city the reputation of Israel's non-stop city and one of the party highlights of the Mediterranean.

Approximately 2.5 million people live in the greater Tel Aviv area (known as Gush Dan), which is about one third of Israel's population. While the actual population within the city's limits is around 350,000, over one million people converge on Tel Aviv daily.

We hope you will like living in this exciting city for your semester of study and encourage you to get out of the classroom and campus as much as possible to discover and enjoy it (while keeping a focus on your studies of course!).

Tel Aviv – "The White City" – A UNESCO World Heritage Site

Jewish and National Holidays

All holidays in Israel begin at sundown on the previous day and their precise dates on the Gregorian calendar change from year to year. See the Academic Calendar for this year's dates.

Rosh Hashanah - The beginning of the Jewish year and civil calendar; its name literally means "The head of the Year." The holiday is secularly celebrated similar to New Years and religiously celebrated with rituals and prayer. Families usually gather to share a large festive holiday meal.

Yom Kippur - The "Day of Atonement" occurs 10 days after Rosh Hashanah and is a fast day, religiously observed by attending synagogue to repent and ask forgiveness. The ten days between the two holidays is a time to ask forgiveness from others. Please note that most of the country closes down during Yom Kippur, including all forms transportation. Secular traditions include riding bikes on highways or main streets.

Sukkot - A religious and agricultural holiday commemorating the forty years that the people of Israel wandered the desert after the exodus from Egypt and a celebration of the harvest season. Families erect booths (sukkot) outside their homes, in which they sit to eat their meals and even sleep at night.

Hanukkah - "The Festival of Lights," Hanukkah tells the story of assimilation, suppression, and the fight to maintain the Jewish faith in the face of secularizing Hellenism. During the holiday an eight-pronged candelabrum is lit to symbolize the eight days that the oil burned in the Temple after it was reclaimed from the Hellenists. Is customary to eat oily foods including jelly-filled donuts and latkes/levivot (potato pancakes).

Tu B'Shvat - The "New Year for the Trees" is celebrated by planting trees and eating fruit and nuts.

Purim - A commemoration a time in which Jewish people living in Persia were saved from extermination. The Scroll of Esther is read twice, small gift packages of goodies are sent to friends, money is given to charity, and people dress up in costume and celebrate. Costumed parties can be found all around the country, with lots of music and fun.

Passover - Commemorating the exodus from Egypt, this holiday is observed in a number of ways. During the first night, the story of the flight from Egypt is recited around the dinner table (seder). Throughout the weeklong holiday, there is a very rigid dietary requirement of not eating bread or any other leavened food. In fact, Israeli law prohibits the sale of these items during Passover, so you may choose to stock up in advance.

Holocaust Memorial Day - Starting at sundown, TV broadcasts and radio programs are dedicated to the subject of the Shoah (Holocaust). A two-minute air siren goes off at 10:00 the following morning. During the siren people stop whatever they are doing in order to stand in silence and contemplation. Memorial ceremonies are held at the University and main city squares (Rabin Square in Tel Aviv).

Memorial Day for Fallen Soldiers and Victims of Terrorism - One week after Holocaust Memorial Day, Israel commemorates its soldiers who have fallen in battle as well as the victims of terrorism. A siren is sounded at 8:00 pm and again at 11:00 am the following morning. It is customary to stop and stand in silence during the sirens. Ceremonies are held both on campus and at Rabin Square. Immediately at the conclusion of Memorial Day (Yom Ha-Zikaron), Israel's Independence Day begins.

Israel Independence Day - At the precise moment that Memorial Day ends, Independence Day (Yom Ha-Atzma'ut) begins. The mood instantly changes as people celebrate Israel's independence. Ceremonies are held at night in Rabin Square, and the next day many people celebrate by getting together with friends and family for a barbeque (mangal or al ha'esh).

Shavuot - This holiday commemorates when the Jewish people received the Torah (first five books of the Bible) at Mount Sinai. Shavuot comes 49 days after Passover and it is customary to eat dairy products, particularly cheesecake, and study Torah through the night.

Tisha B'Av - Occurring on the 9th day of the Hebrew month of Av, this is a day of fasting and mourning in commemoration of tragedies that have befallen the Jewish people. According to tradition, both the First and Second Temples in Jerusalem were destroyed on this date.
